AMERICA NATION

WORD OF GOD SPOKEN FOR AMERICA NATION

Prophet Vincent Selvakumar

1. In the year two thousand thirteen, while waiting in the presence of God, the Lord spoke concerning the nations and said, “Oh nation of America, a time of harvest has been appointed for you. Behold, it shall appear very soon on you and upon the inhabitants of your nation. It shall suddenly enter your territories so as to plunder great multitude of people.

2. This is falling upon you, owing to your pompous life and negligence. Behold, it shall come: it shall come upon the nation and upon the inhabitants of the land. The days of My judgement shall quickly fall upon the inhabitants of the land. When the walls of thy nation will be trampled and the people of the land shall wail and are dumbstruck, time and again the nation will be subdued from its position”. Thus says the Lord “it will be good, if you could amend your ways before such days shall appear”.

3. On account of its strength, splendor and pride, this nation is filled with drunkenness. Its ways are like that of a frenzied and berserk man. By instigating and provoking wars in the poor countries, it is even stripping them off their garments. When the blood of the poor people was shed on the earth and their plea for justice was rejected, while the children stood in the streets begging for food, your eyes were filled with haughtiness. Your heart boasted to yourself saying 'we are mighty and this was achieved by us'.

4. And I saw you when you thought in your heart that 'there is none to question nor anyone who can find me'. My ears heard the words of your heart.

5. Yet, there are some Churches and people, who are waiting for the fulfilment of My will and bear My name, and the few, who love justice and hold onto My words, dwell here. For the sake of these men, I tarried what I intended to perform and I have given time to repent so that they may escape.

6. During these days, it will be good, if people who put on the responsibility for the nation and stand in the hedge and pray, may rise up in large numbers. It will be good if they fill My bottle with tears and take the responsibility and pray so that the nation may be protected. For then, I shall take note of the selfless prayers and mitigate the destructions of the nation. The fragile evil deeds shall depart on its own.

7. When destructions shall come in the form of fire, and punishment shall arise like the flames and calamities fall like great floods, I shall set boundaries and mitigate them, such that they do not breach the borders. I will protect My people, who bear My name, from the fright and consequences of punishment and from the clutches of destructions. He, who pities and prays for the nation will be marked first: the destroyer shall not touch his territories.

8. Curse and guilt of bloodshed of the innocent is on the nation. Furthermore, the iniquities of the servants, who glorify their names in the guise of doing ministry is high in the land. It makes way for the curse to fall upon the nation.

9. I caused them to rise up. It was I, who molded them. Yet, they sold themselves to the world and its lusts. They exalted themselves through wealth and abundance of riches. The walls are adorned with precious stones and their attire is filled with grandeur. Scarlet is under their feet. Pride is in their heads.

10. Each one is appointing himself as the watcher and leader of the people. His heart is like that of a kite which is flying on its prey. They devoured My vineyard. What they plundered from the poor are in their hands. Their barns are filled with the spoils of plunder.

11. Through this, he is enlarging his coasts. He is keen to soar in the air like a bird and gather the precious things to himself and consume the best of the yield and drinks wickedness.

12. His eyes did not look at Me nor his ears gave heed to My voice. Yet, he deceived the people saying 'I have help from God and His words are with me'. He executes the delusions of his heart and teaches men those things which I did not tell. He equates himself with God and His angel.

13. With false visions, he makes the people to believe that it was declared from God: a day shall come and I shall totally tear their masks off their faces. I shall annihilate what they had declared. Yet they will not turn back.

14. Even though I shall do these things, yet the people who believes him and give heed to his voice, will go after him. He who teaches wicked things and he who accepts him, are the reason for the curse in the nation.

15. False doctrines, harlotry worships and deceptive works that are undertaken for the sake of money have increased in the nation and this has defiled the spiritual realms of the country. Is it not because of these things that judgement is falling upon the nation? Behold, it shall suddenly appear like the blazing fire.

16. The rulers are coercing to believe in false things. They are betraying their people. They are selling themselves for the riches of the wealthy. They are opening the gates of the nation to be plundered. In order to bewitch the people, they acknowledge harlotry, revelry and adultery.

17. The sin of Sodom and the wickedness of Gomorrah obtain recognition here. Flesh is being sold in the streets. The children are getting defiled. Every day the blood of adultery is being shed. The youths are frenzied and wandering. The gift of roaming is in his feet. There is horror in his hands. Likewise, even the aged is wandering aimlessly. There is lust in his eyes and wickedness in his hands. The children fall prey. Yet, there is none to observe nor anyone to obstruct.

18. The nights of the city are filled with terror and smokes of sin. Its stench has reached the heavens. He who sees, hears, eats, drinks, thinks and he who works, desires only sinfulness.

19. Through wisdom, the wise men of the nation accomplish sinfulness. The science of evil exists in the hideouts of the land. Its wickedness is extremely horrific and causes bloodshed in the countries. As such, you scheme to overpower and subdue many nations. In the beginning it will prosper. Yet, the evil wrought out by the work of the hands of men will frighten the nation.

20. During those days, the smoke shall ascend and pollute the air of the nation. Enemy shall arise from the hideout and from the distant place as well. The wise men will be dumbstruck and the people will be stupefied. The rulers will wash off their hands saying it is impossible for them to prevail by their power.

21. Evil shall arise like the waves that appear in the sea in a sequence: one wave shall target the poor. While another one will target the children. Yet another shall plunder the aged. When you get to see these things, if My people, who bear My name, do not turn away from their ways and he who prays, do not put on the responsibility to pray, and continue to remain in his negligence, then evil shall destroy My household as well.

22. At that time, the altars of My temple, will become desolate. Wailings of death will be heard in the place of worship. There will be none to bury the shepherd that buries the flock and the flock that buries the shepherd; people will forsake them. They will be forgotten. Their habitations will become desolate.

23. When evil shall roam in the nation with no barrier, the wailings of death will soon be heard in the streets. At that time the breast of the mother will become poison for the infants. The breath of the husband will become toxic to his wife and the breath of the wife shall become toxic to her husband. People will eat their food with fear and drink their liquids with trembling. The wings of the birds will be severed. He who walks shall be astounded. He who passes by shall wail. He who flies, shall be terrified. Darkness shall fill the streets and desolation will fill the pathways.

24. With no seller, the buyer will starve and with no buyer, the seller will starve. The pit foxes shall consume the roots of the nation. Beasts shall trample the yield of the crops. The wealth of the nation will be moth eaten. Many people will lose their jobs. The livelihood of numerous people will be affected.

25. During the later days, the beggars will plead with their hands in the streets. There will be an increase in the number of men who sell their blood for money and who sell their flesh for money.

26. The dragon shall open its mouth and spew out its breath and the venom of its mouth upon the nation. When it intends to perform its deeds, I shall open thy gates for its' works and destructive acts. I shall recall the angels who are stationed to watch at your doorsteps.

27. Then your nation will become like a garden that is without any fence and allowed to be strayed. The rulers opened the gates for sinfulness, because, you hated righteousness and sought-after wickedness and forgot your God and instead desired to follow the works of the dragon.

28. The servant was blind and deceived the flock, while the false preachers, filled their bellies with My words and the servants supported wicked rulers while false prophets saw vain visions and deceived mankind and the people gave heed to false doctrines and false servants and acknowledged their words and upheld them which is why I shall do thus.

29. The days of punishment shall be equal to the sin of the nation, the pride of the rulers, and in proportion to the iniquities of the servants. However, the one who prays and the one who stands in the hedge were to rise up and intercede for the nation and pray with tears and puts on the accountability, then I shall reduce the evil days and also mitigate its intensity.

30. The evil that shall fall upon the nation are brought by men and their selfish conspiracies. The nation neglected the words of My mouth and followed the things which it learnt, desired and sold itself, is the reason that I allowed them.

31. Behold, anyone who observes these words which I am declaring to you, and come forward to intercede and pray, may keenly observe the worlds of My mouth. Let him first pray for the rulers, who rule the nation and the merchants that control them.

32. In order to enhance authority, power and amass great wealth and commit adultery through the conspiracies of the great harlot, and make way for the enemy, these are strenuously working to unleash evil on the nation and its inhabitants.

33. They shall do this so as to plunder the inhabitants of the nation and enrich their own selves and subdue authorities and powers under their control. Their barns will be filled when the economy of the nation shall collapse and when the inhabitants of the nation are in distress.

34. In order to let loose evil, they are destroying the walls of the nation and by allying with the foreigners, they are not allowing the gates to be locked.

35. The authorities of these men have crossed many nations. Their territories shall enlarge to many other countries of the world. These men are ruling the rulers. They have authority to lift up the man of their wish, and remove the one, whom they do not like. They are deliberately doing these things, so that the people of the nation may depend on them for their livelihood and that they may be submissive unto them.

36. They shall cast their hooks into the commercial establishments, industries, entities, trade and manufacturing units and bring the rope of administration under the control of their hands.

37. The rulers and men in authority shall ally with them. Through the honor gained by them, these men are exalting themselves through self-esteem. They gather together and offer the wine of adultery to the inhabitants of the nation and through revelry, entice them and cause them not to realize that their bones are being drawn out.

38. The scientists of the nation shall ally with them. For the sake of cheap and menial gains, they will help the perpetrators with the wisdom of their conspiracies. They will unleash evil deeds into the nation and enslave the people.

39. The evil which is falling upon the nation is not unknown to them. Although it is said that the dragon and its nation have let loose the evil, yet without the knowledge of these men, nothing happens. The hands of these men are also involved along with the plots of the foreigners, whose acts unleash evil in the nation.

40. Their objective is to strip the people and multiply their own wealth. These men do not think that 'this is my nation: these are my people'. These men shall gather together and unleash evil in all the nations and among all the tribes and control mankind and strengthen themselves. During the days of the evil one, these men shall hand over their glory to him.

41. In the coming days, they will cause economic collapse in several countries and strip the people and subdue them. They will do in such a way that no one, other than their own selves may strengthen or grow. They shall kill those who know their schemes and those who oppose them. The place of such men will disappear altogether.

42. Because the works of their hands succeed, they prevail and enslave the people through their schemes. No one can oppose them. Yet, the one, who prays and he who bears My name so as to bind the evil, alone will be able to hinder, such that their deeds may be annihilated.

43. Since the enemy is aware of it, he is bargaining My servants first. He is defiling the Churches so as to weaken My people through the servants. He is causing false preachers and false prophets to rise up in great numbers and making the people to wander away. Numerous servants of the nation are being sold to such merchants and men in authority.

44. The risen-up Saul' have laid down their swords and are hiding inside the camps. It will be good if Davidians, who have burden for the nation may rise up and fight the battle. It will be good if people who seek Me not for the fulfillment of their own deeds but follows Me for the accomplishment of My tasks. Their swords alone will prevail.

45. He who labors for the wages, is weak. He who works so as to fulfill the will of Him that sent him, alone is mighty. It is only when the mighty ones arise and fight the battle that this nation will be protected. Their inhabitants will survive”, says the Lord.
